COUNCIL PROMOTES FELLOWSHIP

Miss Hanna Bracker for the past year enjoyed the life common to the American teen-agers, while she attended Salina High as our foreign exchange student. Hanna, whose home is in Keil, Germany, made her temporary home this year at the Elmer Her-ring residence.

For the past two years, Salina High School has sponsored students from foreign countries. This plan was made possible through the efforts of the Student Council and the American Field Service.

Last year Erik Svarrer was brought to Salina from Esj-berg, Denmark, by the AFS. This year the school was priv-ileged to have as its guest, Miss Hanna Bracker of Keil, Germany. Both Hanna and Erik, through the American Field Service plan, have now learned the ways of the Ameri-can people.

Last summer three Salina High students took ad-vantage of the American Field Service plan to spend three months in Europe. Mary Gay Dillingham went to Sweden while John Kirtland and Bill Welsh journeyed to Germany for a summer to learn the ways of the peoples across the seas.

This foreign exchange plan has become a chief source of promoting fellowship between the free countries of the world. Through the efforts of the Student Council and the American Field Service this program will continue to be used in Salina to promote good will and better understand-ing throughout the world.

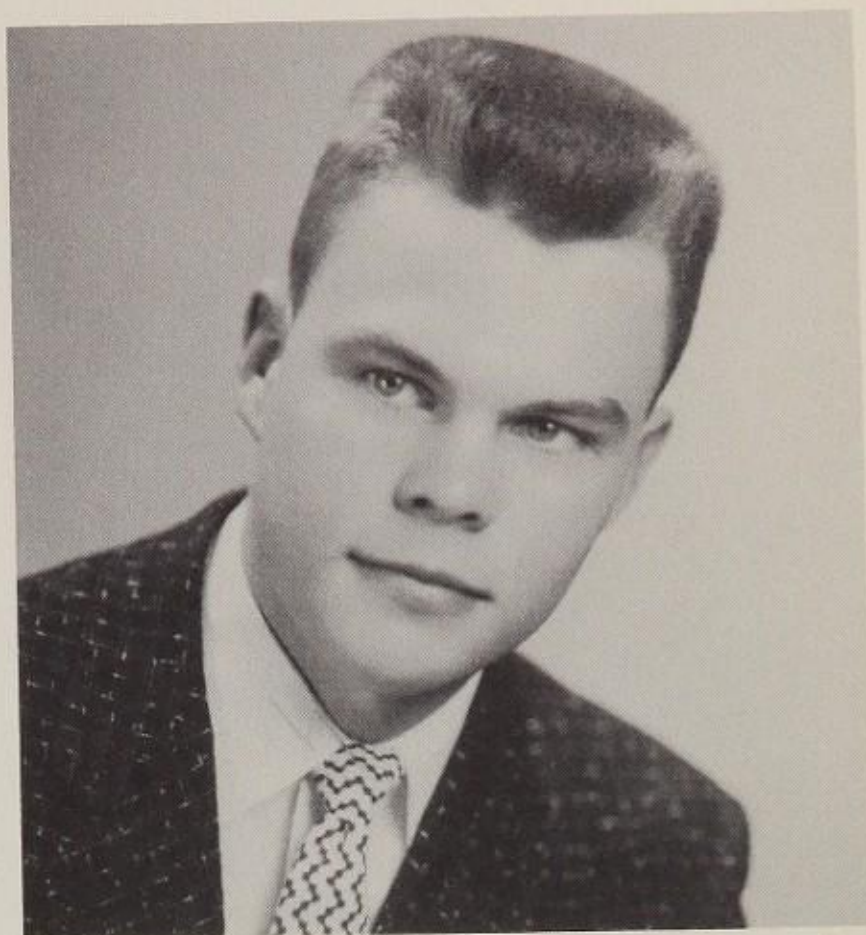

KIRTLAND HEADS STUDENT GOV'T

The '56-'57 Student Council, composed of 41 elected representatives and four officers, met every Tuesday morning at 8:00 in the Little Theater. The executive council, which included the officers and Kent Worley, senior; Bob Taylor, junior; and Joan Fassnacht, Sophomore met on Monday mornings to determine the agenda of the regular meeting.

Among the projects undertaken by the Council were the homecoming festivities, sponsoring an exchange student (Hanna Bracker from Keil, Germany), managing the concession business, looking after the soft drink machines, providing the student directory, helping many organizations get their pictures in the Trail, buying sweaters for the cheerleaders, looking after Christmas decorations and adopting two needy families so they would have a more bountiful Christmas.

Besides their many projects, the Council helped with many other school projects. They provided funds to help beautify the school grounds, assisted classes in making successes of their plays, musicals, and parties. The Council was responsible for nearly all the assemblies during the year.

It was a busy year in which every member of the Council had an opportunity to share in the successes of the entire school.

Student Council President, John Kirtland, elected by the student body last spring, took office this fall after a summer spent in Germany. John spent a wonderful time in Germany, and spent much time telling friends all his experiences. He represented the Student Council and student body when he crowned the queen at homecoming, and presided over most school assemblies.

Student Council Vice President, Jim Northern, elected in the spring of 1956, took office in the fall. He presided at the opening meetings since president John Kirtland had not returned from Germany.

Jim presided over several regular meetings and special assemblies during the year.

Kay Scholton, Student Council secretary, was kept busy with her work since the Council had one of the most active years in history.

Besides taking notes, writing minutes and keeping the roll, she wrote many thank you notes. She had more than the usual amount of correspondence during the year.

Student Council Treasurer, Brenda Barringer, took office this fall with a big bank account to work with and was kept busy with the many projects the council undertook during the year. She was head sponsor of the student directory, and also took charge of the money from the concession stands. Like the other officers she presided over one assembly.

OSTENBERG HEADS

Mr. W. M. Osterberg, Superintendent of Salina schools, has made great progress toward expanding the Salina schools. Buildings, increased enrollments, and special problems have needed his judgment and guidance.

Although his normal day is crowded, he has time for hearing suggestions for improving school plans or conditions.

He takes a very active part in civic affairs. He is a past President of the Salina Chamber of Commerce and, in 1956 was chairman for Community Chest campaign.

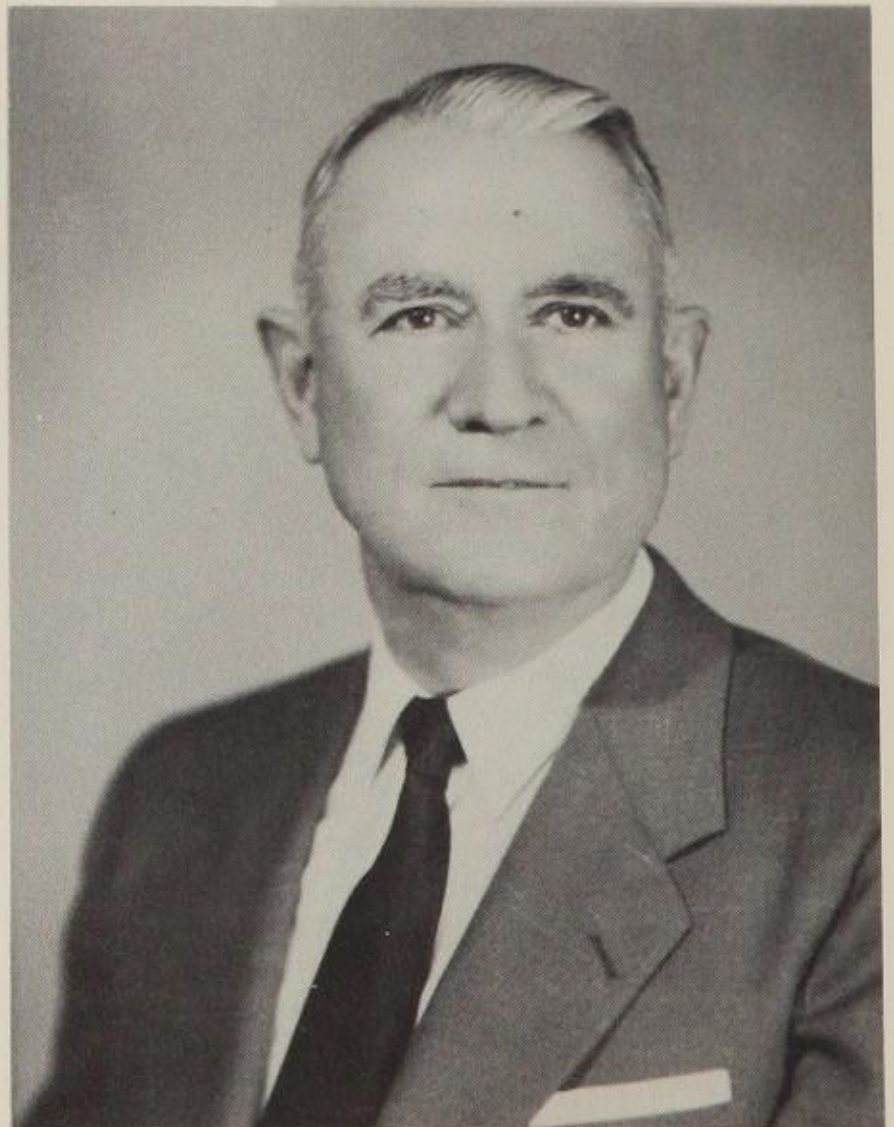

His favorite sport is golf, but he never misses a Salina High athletic contest.

Since 1929 when Mr. W. W. Waring first came to Salina, he has served as principal of Salina High School, and during the war he served as Superintendent of schools. At the present time, he is Director of Secondary Education.

Although his responsibilities are many and his leisure months few, he always manages to have time for an inquiring student or friend, and advice from his broad educational background is sought by many.

Mr. Waring is also active in many civic and church activities as well as P.T.A. and educational programs.

ADMINISTRATION

Responsibility for the activities of the school and the approval of new policies is part of the job of our principal, Mr. Owen E. Hodgson.

Untangling snarls and red tape are part of his school day. Making sure that Joe K. Student makes it through High School is a prime function.

The graduates of Salina High will always remember his willingness to help them with their problems involving their future.

He is very active in civic and educational circles, and though his leisure moments are few he is always present for Salina High activities and events.

The problems that go with school and its activities is a big job for the Dean of Girls, Miss Dorothy Andrews. Her day is crowded with sponsoring the Usherettes, the Y-Teen club, and teaching two hours of American History.

Even though her schedule is always full she finds time to give friendly advice and suggestions to all.

Without the students, high school would have no reason to exist. This year, as more than 1,000 students flocked to Salina High, the enrollment reached its highest peak in history.

W. E. Simpson, the assistant principal, has a big part in helping to guide students through three years of high school. Mr. Simpson looks after attendance for boys, helps supervise the cafeteria, teaches lab tech, and seminar, and sponsors the monitors.

OFFICE HELPERS PROVIDE, SLIPS TIPS, MEMOS

A high school is more than a building housing laboratories and classrooms; it is the students who every day put life into those classrooms; it is the teachers who pass knowledge acquired during years of study on to the student; it is the administrators who co-ordinate the activities of both students and faculty into a smooth running institution.

Keeping the office records and running the switch-board are full time jobs handled by the office staff, headed by Mrs. Johnson and Miss Granzow.

Contrary to the persistent myth there is no leisure life of the office worker for the office does not run itself. Through the day they face business of all kinds plus a continuous string of telephone calls.

This year as always there are student helpers in the office to help with the ever expanding job of running the office smoothly. They do jobs that are very vital and are always ready to help an inquiring student.

In the fall, the 72 piece marching band is a busy group. The band, accompanied by four twirlers and the drum major, present music and stunts for home football games and perform at colleges. The band practices hard for these performances in heat, wind, biting cold or on pleasant cool mornings. Mr. Olin Parker is the director.

FALL

Wherever one goes practically, if there is music and a group of teenagers, one will see couples dancing. Jitterbugging and the "Chicken" seem to be the craze. Eddie Lewis, Jane Sanderson, Junior Petty, and Carol Fitzhugh demonstrate the jitterbug for some of their friends.

In the physical education classes, the sophomores learn skills in various sports, exercises, and dances. Joan Block and Carolyn Strange play a game of basketball in the gym.

Accompanists are an essential in the vocal music department. Mr. Paul Ryberg, vocal instructor, has found just the thing in the form of Pat Means and Linda Stark. These girls accompany vocal groups and soloists.

Moving in shifts, each class has twenty minutes to consume its share of the food from the cafeteria during the lunch hour. There are many varieties of food, and they are purchased at a low cost. Chili burgers and sandwiches are just a sample of the various things Jerry Merker, Lewis Bates, and Pat Ansley can buy.

During a football game, one can see gay streamers flying from Salina's goal posts and also from the opposition's goal posts. Jim Van Duyne and Darwin Johnson decorated the goal posts after school one day for the game that night.

In the fall the sophomore class holds a get-acquainted party for all its members. Committees work hard to organize the party and have enjoyable recreation and refreshments. Everyone has great fun at the party, especially when it's time to gather for pepsies and doughnuts.

An event that is anticipated with much excitement during the holiday season is the Cherokee Christmas formal. Linda Stark, Jerry Kinsey, Cherie Clark, and Jerry Matthews gather before the silver Christmas tree to chat.

Putting in a lot of singing appearances this year was the sophomore sextette composed of Linda Stark, Pat Riker, Gwen Engstrom, Donna Norris, Pat Means, and Cherie Clark. These talented girls should add much to the vocal department in the next two years. Mr. Paul Ryberg is their instructor.

The big event of the school year for the sophomores was their "Frontier Party." The western theme brought the cowboys and cowgirls out in various attire. Boys were seen in levis, cowboy boots, ten gallon hats, and carrying guns and lassos. The girls were dressed in anything from long dresses and jeans to Indian maiden outfits. Cherie Clark, sophomore class president, presents prizes to Butch Hill and Anita King for being the most appropriately dressed westerners.

With the beginning of a new school year comes the task of enrollment. It's general routine for juniors and seniors, but for the sophomores it is a time of bewilderment. Finding the right locker, learning the locker combination, and getting to the proper classroom are part of this new world of high school. Miss Andrews lends a hand to fathom the maze.

STUDIES COMBINE THEORY,

Distributive Education provides on-the-job training plus valuable class work for every D. E. student. Many of the students are employed by Salina business firms for a few hours each day. Twenty hours of work a week is required for the three hours credit each semester. Students in class are graded by their employers and the teacher.

Through Distributive Education students acquire many necessary skills, information and attitudes which help them to do better merchandising.

Approximately twenty students out of Salina High's graduating class will enter some phase of retailing or merchandising.

The D. E. Club sponsors a student store in the Distributive Education room. The store is open during the morning hours beginning at 8 a.m. There is a wide variety of school supplies available. The club members co-operate in tending the store.

One of the high lights of the year is the employer-employee banquet in which the students are hosts to their employers. The instructor is Mr. Victor Klotz.

PRACTICE ON-THE-JOB

Every student enrolled in Distributive Education belonged to D. E. Club. There were twenty four members, and the dues were thirty five cents a week. To help pay for a part of the dues, they sold decals, ball point pens, note cards, and school supplies. The money the club raised for dues was used in the spring for an employer-employee banquet.

The D. E. Club sponsored a hayrack ride on November 6. For Christmas they also planned many projects and parties.

Listed are members of the club and the places employing them. Girls are: Phyllis Allison, Strand Theatre; Leota Berks, Watson Theatre; Barbara Burt, Watson Theatre; Virginia Carpentier, C. R. Anthony's; Edith Crawford, Watson Theatre; Carolyn Hartzell, Watson Theatre; Judy Hunt, Webers Drive-Inn; Della Klein, Ben Franklin; Myrna Laferre, Penney's; Jolene Lancaster, Dillion's; Janet Longbine, Neisner's; Mary Ann Mills, Neely's; Sharon Peterson, Pines Sundries; and Kay Sullivan, Silver Coffee Pot.

The boys are: Charles Delaney, S. H. Kress; Bob Francisco, Waddell Cadillac Company; Gary Hindman, Strand Theatre; Joel Johnson, A. L. Duckwalls; Pat Kendrick, Sheffield's Furniture; Aaron Merriman, Weeks Food Market; LeRoy Schmidt, Jo Mar Dairy; Gayland Snow, Montgomery Ward; Dennis Snyder, Vogue Theatre; and Roger Wolford, Mehornay's.

Aaron Merriman is employed by Weeks Food Market. In the past year he has worked in various departments.

On-the-job training is illustrated by Mary Ann Mills. She is employed by Neely's Cafe. In the above picture she is serving coffee to a customer.

Pat Kendrick has been employed by Sheffield's Furniture Store for a year. He was a salesman and also a delivery boy.

Myrna Laferre is employed by J. C. Penney Company. She is in charge of window displays. The displays are changed about once a week, so this is a very important job.

LIVELY BAND MARCHES

The football season would not be complete without the marching band. The half times were livened by the performance of this group. They did formations along with various stunts, some highly skillful and others for sheer fun.

Seventy-two members form the band. They wear uniforms of gray and maroon. The drum major, Dick Worley, and twirlers, Darlene Sutton, Jane Meier, Betty Milliman, and Sande Shilling lead the band. The twirlers add color and also perform stunts while the band plays. They wear maroon and white costumes, while the drum major wears a white uniform trimmed with gold.

The band marches in various parades. They journeyed to Kansas State College for Band Day and participated with many other bands in halftime activities. During the winter, this group is known as the concert band.

Mr. Olin Parker has direction of the band.

TWIRLERS STEP HIGH

Darlene Sutton, Jane Meier, Sande Shilling, and Betty Milliman were selected by Mr. Olin Parker of the instrumental department as twirlers with the marching band. Dick Worley is the drum major.

The drum major leads the band as it marches. Twirling beside him and doing acrobatics are the girls. The group perform stunts and acrobatics that center about a theme or are the appropriate steps to the music at that time. The twirlers and drum major also perform occasionally between halves of a basketball game.

The girls wore outfits of short maroon jumpers and white blouses this year with Salina printed across one side of the skirt. The drum major wore his white uniform trimmed with gold.

CHOSEN IN THE FALL, the Salina High cheerleaders rounded out another year of cheering the Mustangs to victory and consoling them after defeat.

The seven cheerleaders: Betty Harr (4), head cheerleader; Carole Mallon (3), and Sandi Simmons (5), seniors; Becky Myers (2), and Kay Wright (6), juniors; Linda Stark (7), and Betty Rooney (1), sophomores, were selected by a faculty group headed by Miss Joan Lorson, head sponsor of the cheerleaders. The cheerleaders were active at all the Salina High basketball and football games, and wrestling matches.

An unpredictable but always interesting Salina High football team fumbled, fought and edged its way to an interesting season.

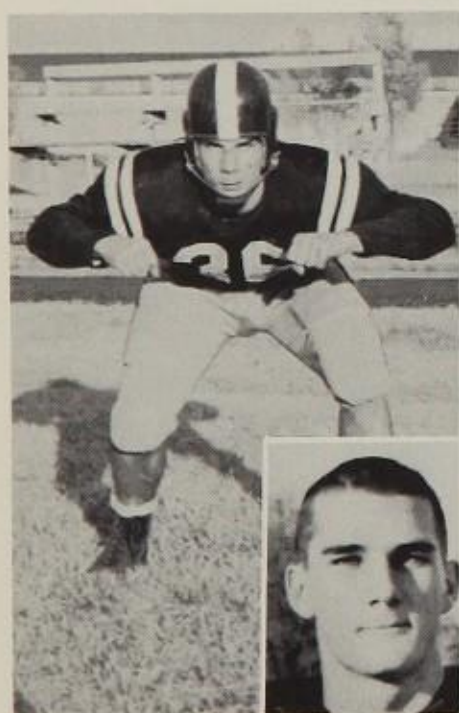

Mr. Mike Davis, new to Salina this season, and his squad of promising sophomores and few experienced veterans got off to a commendable start but were unable to keep up the pace with the power shown by other CKL clubs plus a potent Topeka high team. The Mustangs turned in a three won, six lost season with a record of two and five in the league.

Coach Mike Davis' boys won the admonition of its supporters by showing a fighting determination although they were outmanned much of the season. Ending the season in sixth place in the CKL, the squad shows promise of being the team to watch next year.

Mr. Davis was assisted by Mr. Paul Zerger on the A squad. B team coaches were Mr. R. L. Goering, Mr. Willis Lobdell and Mr. Keith Elder. Don Wise and Phil Rinard, seniors, were the co-captains for the season.

The S.H.S. Mustangs rolled to a 25-0 victory over the Garden City Buffaloes, the first game of the season, using the heavy line to break the backs into the open. Fresh from a victory, the Mustangs moved to McPherson where they ran into explosive speed and deceptive ball handling and went down in defeat, 27-12. This game was the league opener for both teams.

Scoring twice in the first six minutes and allowing the Mustangs only one touchdown, the Clay Center Tigers defeated the Mustangs by a score of 13-6. This was the Salina Homecoming, and was the first time in five years that the Mustangs have gone down to a Homecoming foe. The Clay Center team went on to take the C.K.L. league title without a loss.

Treking to Abilene, the Mustangs scored their first league win on Friday Oct. 12 by a score of 15-0. The next week proved a different story as the Mustangs were hauled in by the Topeka Trojans. The final score was 33-6.

Smarting from defeat, the Mustangs trampled the Chapman Irish and came home with an 18-6 league win. This was to be the last win for the team but not the last hard fight. On Halloween night the Mustangs fell to second place Emporia Spartans by a score of 25-0.

The last two games were played against the two teams that are generally among the best in the league. The Junction City Bluejays, playing a sharp game, toppled the Mustangs by a score of 39-7. The Manhattan Indians overhauled the home team and posted a 38-6 final game score.

Steve Klint takes into the secondary to outwit an opposing player.

The Salina High B team under the direction of "Dutch" Goering won six and lost three for a very successful season. Last year the B team won three and lost four. The sophomore team in the lone game played, downed Newton's sophomores 54-0. This year the B team was bolstered by the presence of a strong group of sophomores. Near the last part of the season several sophomores got into the varsity lineup.

James Neill

In their first game the Little Mustangs toppled the Manhattan B team 14-0. The next game the team, showing good form, downed the McPherson B team 20-0. The sophomores drubbed the Newton Soph. team by an unbelievable score of 54-0, and the next week the B team Mustangs were defeated by Clay Center, 32-0.

Another win went to the Mustang B team over the Abilene Cowboys, 12-6. Emporia toppled the young B team 8-7 at Emporia.

Hutchinson went down to defeat 12-7, and the St. Johns Cadets were felled, 19-6. In the last game of the season the B team took their sixth win by downing Junction City, 40-15.

Homecoming is one of the most important events of the school year at Salina High. Sponsored by the Student Council, the queen is chosen from a group of five candidates and crowned during halftime ceremonies of the football game. The Homecoming activities for 1956 began with 43 nominations for queen. Five senior girls were selected by the seniors as final candidates.

The celebration began Thursday, October 4, with a downtown parade, ending in a huge bonfire-pep rally in Kenwood Park.

At half-time of the Salina-Clay Center game, attractive Betty Harr was crowned "Home-coming Queen of 1956" by Student Council President, John Kirtland. Queen Betty and her court, Mary Gay Dillingham, Barbara Gish, Mary Rita Warren, and Coni Zook reigned over the second half of the game.

The girls were honored and presented with gifts by the Cherokee Council at the Homecoming Dance at the Memorial Hall.

UP 'N ATOMS SEEK PROJECTS

The Science Club, under the leadership of sponsors, Mr. George Toland and Mr. Blaine Sites, have completed a year of discussing science problems, hearing guest speakers and the biggest job of all, selecting and completing a project for the year. Through their projects, the future scientists have gained a better and more complete understanding of the subjects into which they delved.

In the spring, the best projects are displayed and judged at the State Science Fair. The winners of this contest take their projects to the National Science Fair.

LA CUMPARSITA HAS BANQUET

During the past year, members of the Spanish Club have done many things to learn of our Spanish-speaking neighbors to the South. The first of the year consisted of Travel Meetings. At these meetings guest speakers told of their trips to various countries, including Cuba, Mexico and Argentina.

One of the highest points of the year was the participation of the Spanish Club in the All-Language Club Christmas party. This party is an annual affair in which each language club presents skits denoting the characteristics of the country which they represent.

The final big event of the year was a banquet in the spring. The members were served Spanish food, highlighted by a Spanish program. They also played bingo and other games in Spanish. The members also had Spanish speaking pen pals to whom they wrote.

Seniors undertake the class play as a project in the fall. After the cast and production crews are selected, the members plunge into weeks of labor, frustration and delight before the curtain rises to disclose the fruit of their patient anticipation. Here is disclosed Carol McKim setting the mood for the production, "Gramercy Ghost." Carol was the official script girl.

NOVEMBER

"GRAMERCY GHOST"

"Gramercy Ghost" was the selection for the senior class play this year. Ghosts haunted the Salina High School stage as the curtain arose for the comedy on the evenings of Thursday, October 25, and Saturday, October 27.

Mr. Jack Kelly directed the production. Cast and backstage crews put forth much effort to make the play a success.

Most people have inherited property, but what about someone inheriting a ghost? Nancy Willard (LaRetta Miller) inherited one! This attractive girl, who worked for a publisher, was engaged to Parker Burnett (John Kirtland). Amelia Bullock, Nancy's landlady and owner of a delightful old house, died at the age of 103. Nancy learned that she had been left something named Nathaniel Coombes.

Nathaniel (Bob Smith) was a young Revolutionary soldier who had been ambushed and killed in 1776 and was now doomed to an earth-bound existence as a ghost in the neighborhood of Nancy's apartment. Nancy was the only living being who could see Nathaniel. He could not get into heaven because he failed to deliver a message to George Washington. It was all the fault of a pretty bar-maid (Barbara DeWar) who caused him to forget his duty.

When Charley Stewart (Bill Welsh), a young newspaper man, came to Nancy's apartment seeking data on the late Miss Bullock, Nancy found her life even more complicated, since there were now three young men, including Nathaniel, interested in her.

Charley wins Nancy away from Parker, but it is Nathaniel who enables Nancy to choose the right husband. On accomplishing this feat, Nathaniel gains admittance to heaven after winning Washington's approval—with the help of the bar-maid.

The action of this quick moving comedy involved 12 members of the cast. They were Bob Smith, LaRetta Miller, Bill Welsh, John Kirtland, Mary Kay Hawkes, Keeta Wilcox, Dennis Whittington, Charlene Hite, Karen Fitzhugh, Dan Whitters, Barbara DeWar, and Bill Flemming.

Nancy, enacted by LaRetta Miller, becomes terrified at seeing the Gramercy Ghost, portrayed by Bob Smith. Other surprised members of the cast are Parker as played by John Kirtland, and Charley, enacted by Bill Welsh. It isn't an everyday affair to meet a ghost, but it seems to have gotten that way for Nancy.

"Should I send her to Bellevue?" contemplates Parker, enacted by John Kirtland, about Nancy, played by LaRetta Miller. The women ambulance drivers, portrayed by Charlene Hite and Karen Fitzhugh, just hope Parker hurries and makes up his mind.

FUTURE FARMERS STUDY PROGRESS

The Future Farmers of America, composed of boys en- rolled in vocational agriculture classes, is an enterprising and ambitious group. The club is nationally affiliated and the FFA has at least one chapter in every county in Kansas. The motto is, "Doing to learn, learning to do, earning to live and living to learn."

The boys study modern farming methods such as contour farming, correct use of modern machinery, farm mechanics, record keeping and how to select and care for the best livestock, poultry and grain. They enter a number of contests each year to demonstrate their knowledge of farm problems. Contests include stock judging, farm mechanics, poultry, swine and grain judg- ing as well as display of completed projects.

Students trudge through the snow as they depart from the school building after school. They hurry to the warmth of their cars or to the crowd awaiting them on the bus. This photographer was gazing through the concourse windows.

WINTER

One of the thrills for the juniors was the selecting of a class ring. There were all types and designs from which to choose that "certain" ring. Peggy Dow, Susie Wilbur, Larry Hazlewood, and Al Mattson gaze at the various rings. The happy time for receiving the rings was in the spring.

Ann Morgenstern seems to be flattered at the fact that Jim Davis, junior class president, has asked her for a date. Of course, they're "steadies", but even then, a girl isn't sure of always having a date.

Backstage crews were put to hard labor for the junior play, "Curtain Going Up." Stage crew members, Kay Wright and David Hederstedt, carry a load of chairs to be placed on the stage.

Betsy Slaughter and Mary Nell Wood check with Janee Lagerberg and Mike Ross as to ticket sales for the junior play. Approximately 1600 people attended this production.

Many boys interested in working with their hands take courses in the vocational department. Vocational ag, machines, woodworking, printing, auto mechanics, industrial science, and mechanical drawing are some of the subjects that develop skills. Billy Rollins paints a truck in vocational ag.

At Christmas time the art department decorates various parts of the building. Eating was made very pleasant by the colorful decorations placed in the cafeteria. Deanna Stauffer and Judy Wallis hang decorations from the ceiling.

Patty Wheeler, Judy Zeigler, and Judy Wise unbury their car from a blanket of snow after school. From the looks of things, snow really must have fallen during the school hours.

One of the most talented boys with the trumpet is Doug Miller. He is very active in the instrumental department. He is a member of the marching band, concert band, and the Symphonettes. Doug has received 'I' ratings at the Music Festival.

Each night of a Salina High basketball game, the 150 members of the Pep Club could be seen from their posts on the north side of the Salina High gymnasium.

The members of the Pep Club were faithful rooters of the Mustangs. Through the year the Pep Club was active at the eight home games and the Invitational Tournament. The Pep Club wore outfits of white sweaters and emblems with maroon skirts.

Through the leadership of its officers, Ann Bell, President; Ann Morgenstern, Vice-President; Sue Hardisty, Secretary-Treasurer; and Sponsors, Miss Joan Lorson and Miss Leah Coyne, the Pep Club led the team through many exciting contests.

The head coach of the Salina High Mustangs is Willis Lobdell who is in his third year as coach in Salina. Lobdell started with no lettermen, which was somewhat of a handicap.

Riding atop an eleventh hour spurt, the Salina Mustangs found themselves late in the season as they swept the regionals and went on to the state tournament in Wichita. Starting the season with no lettermen, coach Willis Lobdell had his hands full trying to find a winning combination. It wasn't until the final game of the season that the goal was achieved when the Mustangs downed the mighty Topeka Trojans. Topeka earlier in the season humbled the Mustangs 64-31. Using undersclassmen to advantage the Mustangs outhustled the Topeka team and won 58-54 in overtime.

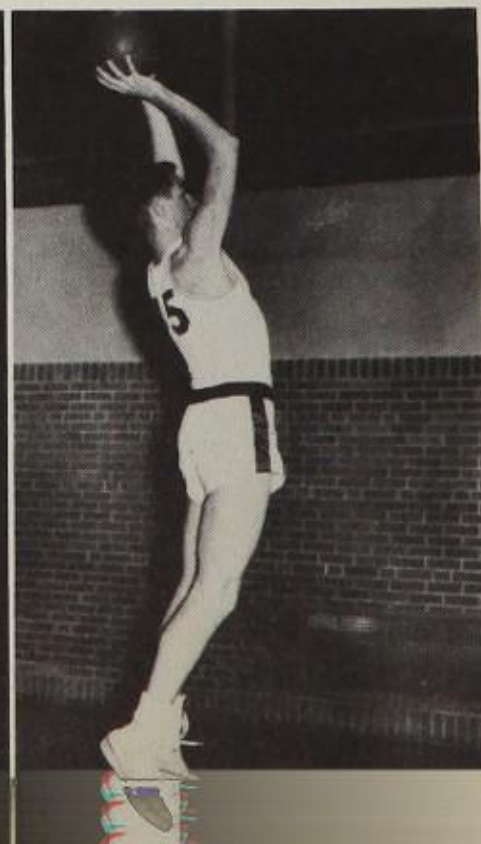

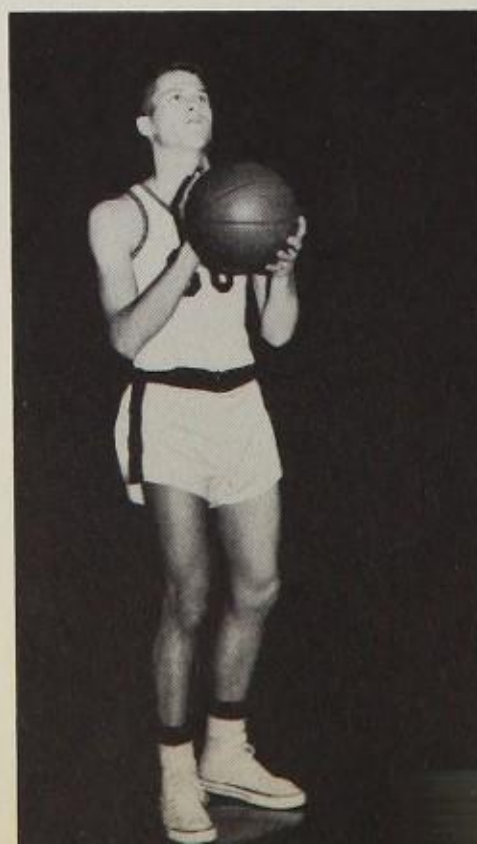

The first game of the season, the Mustangs used their defense to down the Newton Railroaders 49-42. Newton was last year's state champ. Salina won league games from Junction City 60-54, Chapman 45-43, and again 58-42 later on in the season. Clay Center fell twice to the Mustangs by one point 43-42 and again 50-49. Clay went on to take second in the C.K.L. and went to state class A tournament. Salina ended fifth in the C.K.L. Emporia lost to the Ponies by a score of 66-50, also McPherson tumbled to the Mustangs 49-43 and 71-68.

Salina lost to Manhattan twice, once by one point 49-48, the other 61-46. The Ponies went on to beat the Indians in the Regional 53-52. Two other losses were to Junction City 71-52 and Emporia 69-57. The crown to the season came when Salina beat Junction City in the finals at the Regional Tournament 54-41. The Mustangs ended the regular season with a 12-9 record.

The Salina High Mustang basketball team started with no lettermen and were struggling through just a fair season when they caught fire and won six out of their last eight games; two were in the regional tournament. The seniors held most of the season down as Coach Lobdell moved the lineup to best advantage. Seniors were Dan Witters and Klinton Thelander, co-captains; Jim Stauffer, Bob Smith, Jim Mortimer, and Dick Edington. Juniors on the team were John Pinkall, Richard Rose, Monty Weckel, and Bob Taylor. The starting lineup for the Regional Tournament were senior sharpshooters, Dan Witters and Richard Edington; juniors, John Pinkall, Richard Rose, and Monty Weckel.

Under the leadership of its officers, Carol Sue Johnson, Keeta Wilcox, Reta Fulker, and Sarabeth Geis; and sponsors, Mrs. Eldon Monty and Mrs. Art Riley, the Future Nurses Club has completed another year. During the past year, the Future Nurses have sponsored many projects.

The members of the club took field trips to Asbury and St. John's Hospitals to learn about the inner working of a hospital. During Christmas they gave gifts to children in the hospital and to people in the old folks home. Several guest speakers were heard and movies on nursing were shown during the year.

This year completed the third since the Future Nurses have been organized.

F.T.A. MEMBERS GAIN EXPERIENCE

The Future Teachers Club has now completed two very successful years. Any junior or senior was eligible to join.

Officers and committees were elected October 25. The meetings were held in the Little Theater on the last Thursday in the month during the activity period.

One of the F.T.A.'s projects was to visit the different schools in Salina, enabling the members to observe teaching more closely.

In joining the club, each member is associated with the Kansas State Teachers' Association. The students were able to attend the teachers meetings in November.

Head coach of the Salina High Wrestlers is William Lundy who has been coach for the Salina Ponies three years. Mr. Lundy is always trying to get more interest in the sport.

The Salina High Wrestling team under the direction of coach Bill Lundy, started the season with a good group of returning lettermen. They were; Larry McReynolds, Dick Gawith, Jim Neal, Jim Eads, Larry Byers, Marlin Murphy, John Ivan and Fred Good.

The returning lettermen along with about sixty other young grapplers started the season against the Russell Broncs. Salina quickly did some nifty wrestling and downed the visitors 26-21. The next game on tap was the "B" team who downed the very strong Hutchinson "A" team 26-21.

The next game was against the big Wichita North team as they edged the Ponies 23-24. In the next game the Manhattan team trampled Salina by a score of 44-8.

Salina came out even on their next two games winning from Topeka and losing to Wichita West. The score of the Topeka game was 28-14. The score of the Wichita game was 27-18.

The Hutchinson team went home with a victory of 32-12, but a badly outmatched Manhattan team took a stunning defeat at the hands of the Mustangs 35-12. Wichita East took a close 22-19 victory from the Mustangs in the last game for the seniors and the final game of the season.

In the matches at the Regional Salina came home with a third place prize to qualify five men in the State tournament.

Salina was one of the first to take up wrestling in the state and from that time on the sport has grown into one of the most interesting sports to the spectators. Coach William Lundy who has been head coach for three years has helped create an interest in this fast growing sport.

Helping coach Lundy was Don Larson who in helping Lundy made quite a few men out of mice.

February 15 and 16 were the dates for the junior class play, "Curtain Going Up." The audience sees a play in its completion, hardly realizing the work put into a production beforehand. Backstage hands, Frances Schorling, Ronnie Wood, Keith Maxwell, and Steve Burr work the switchboard for their class play.

FEBRUARY

JUNIOR PLAY IS COMEDY

"Curtain Going up", the junior class play, was presented on Friday and Saturday evenings, February 15 and 16. This three-act comedy by Gregory Johnston, like "Our Town", produced here in 1953, required only a bare stage. For some scenes there was a backdrop and a house in the background.

Mr. Jack Kelly was director of the play, and Carol McKim, a senior, was his assistant. There was an unusually large cast, ten girls and seven boys.

Miss Burgess (Donna Dunlap) was faced with many comic obstacles in the play in the form of a grouchy janitor (David Jones), Elsie Hunter (Seara Su McIntosh), a frank, even brash student; Janet Young (Shirley Alexander), a hero-worshiper; Buck O'Hara (John Mitchell), athletic but woman-shy; Nancy Leveridge (Judy Hughes), a girl with too many driving ambitions.

Milt Sanders (John Snowday), a fast-moving character; Jocko Guthrie (Jim Scholten), an "actor" with a swollen head; Loretta Fuller (Mary Ann Barrett), who ranked as a popular individual; Andy Fullbright (Bob Ellis), who had a romantic intrest in Lorry; Joan White (Janice Hoke) and Sylvia Moore (Barbara Snead), inseparable friends.

Miss Morgan (Marilee Long), the sugar-sweet type; Mr. Carter (Bill Aldridge), journalism instructor; Miss Rivers (Betsy Slaughter), a precise, firm-mannered lady; Kyle Roberts (Judy Baker), a theatrical type person; and Mr. Leberidge (Ben Langel), Nancy's father.

Approximately 1600 people attended the production.

Miss Burgess (Donna Dunlap) is presented with an exploding gun by the janitor (David Jones). Nancy Leveridge (Judy Hughes) seems to be a little frightened. Confusion reigns in the background as Sylvia Moore (Barbara Snead) and Joan White (Janice Hoke) carry on a dramatic conversation while Elsie Hunter (Seara Su McIntosh) and Andy Fullbright (Bob Ellis) take in the excitement. Loretta Fuller (Mary Ann Barrett) seems to be the well-dressed one of this group. This scene seems to be typical of play rehearsals.

Confusion again! Trouble seems to be brewing at this dress rehearsal. The gun has gone off again! Miss Burgess (Donna Dunlap), Sylvia Moore (Barbara Snead), Elsie Hunter (Seara Su McIntosh), and Joan White (Janice Hoke) seem to be at a point of desperation. Milt Sanders (John Snowday), Janet Young (Shirley Alexander), and Loretta Fuller (Mary Ann Barrett) wonder if the gun will go off again for Buck O'Hara (John Mitchell).

Judy Baker, Ben Langel, Marilee Long, David Jones, Betsy Slaughter, John Snowday, Judy Hughes, Bill Aldridge, Donna Dunlap, Mary Ann Barrett, Bob Ellis, Jim Scholten, Janice Hoke, Barbara Snead, John Mitchell, Seara Su McIntosh, and Shirley Alexander take a curtain call.

The Y-Teen Club a Christian organization for high school girls, boasted a membership of over 300 for the year of 1956-57.

The members met in the auditorium every other Wednesday, for programs of devotion and entertainment.

The Y-Teen Club sold mum corsages for Homecoming. Another project was selling popcorn at several of the Salina High home football games.

The Y-Teen year was also enlightened by parties. The first party was a get-acquainted party held in the fall. Following the true Christmas spirit, the girls adopted a needy family.

A special program was given at the end of the year in honor of senior girls.

The fine Y-Teen Club would not have been possible except for the leadership of the head sponsor, Miss Dorothy Andrews.

REPRESENTATIVE BOY AND GIRL

Salina High School has honored a Representative Boy and Girl annually for 23 years. They are elected on their academic standing, leadership, and character.

The senior class makes the nominations and does the preliminary voting. When the field is narrowed to three boys and three girls, the seniors and the faculty make the final choice.

Bill Flemming was chosen to be the Representative Boy of the class of 1957. Bill is a student council member, a member of Hi-Y, a member of National Honor Society, has been a member of the basketball team, has been a member of the marching band, is active in track, was a monitor, and worked on the senior play production. He attended Boys' State and is very active in 4-H work.

Elsie Gillispie and Mary Rita Warren were runners-up to the Representative Girl. Both girls are very active in school events.

Elsie is an officer of Y-Teen, a member of National Honor Society, president of the Future Teachers Club, associate editor on the news staff, and president of Cherokee Council.

Mary Rita was an attendant to the Homecoming Queen, president of Y-Teen, a member of National Honor Society, a member of the Dramatics Club, and a member of Pep Club.

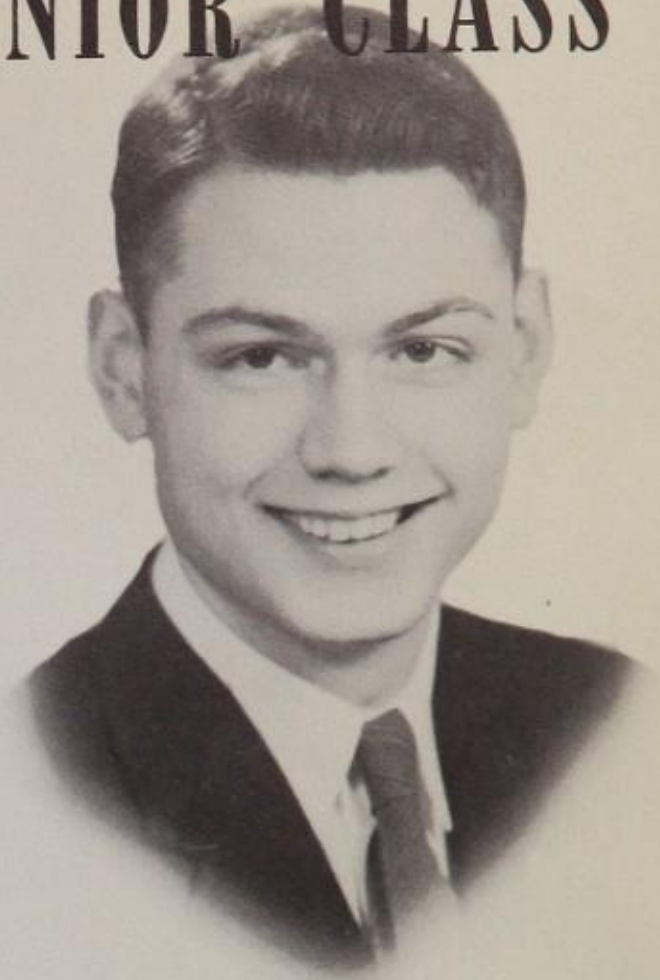

ARE TOP HONORS IN SENIOR CLASS

Mary Gay Dillingham was chosen by the seniors as the Representative Girl of their class. Her friendly smile and charming personality are well-known around Salina High School.

She was the number one student academically in her class. She also won a scholarship to the school of her choice.

Mary Gay was an attendant to the Homecoming Queen, a member of the Y-Teen cabinet, president of the French Club, a member of National Honor Society, and active in the Dramatics Club. Mary Gay was one of three students who spent last summer in Sweden under the American Field Service plan. She was selected by the senior girls as the DAR Good Citizen of the year.

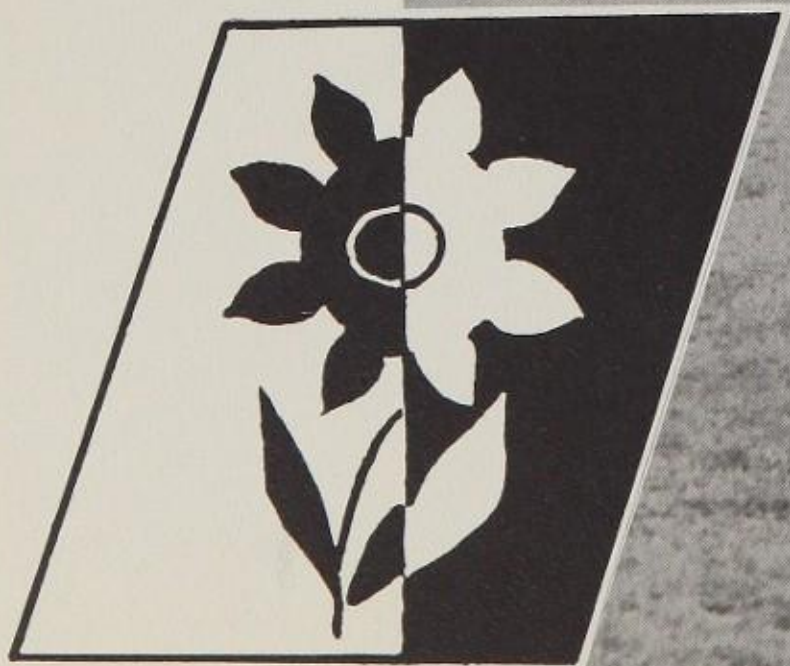

Bill Welsh and John Kirtland were runners-up to the Representative Boy. They are two of the most active boys around Salina High School.

John is president of the Student Council, a top debator and member of the National Forensic League, a member of National Honor Society, a member of Hi-Y, and a Dramatics Club member and Thespian. John was selected to spend last summer in Germany under the American Field Service plan.

Bill is president of Hi-Y, a member of National Honor Society, a tennis star, a member of the Lettermans Club, a member of the National Forensic League, editor on the news staff, a member of Dramatics Club and a Thespian, and attended Boys' State. Bill was also lucky in being able to spend the summer in Germany.

SPRING

These Salina High students are enjoying the spring weather and getting more and more out of the mood for school. The conversations center about plans for the summer—jobs, trips, swimming, and general fun. Groups of teenagers are signing each other's yearbooks and reminiscing about all the good ol' times.

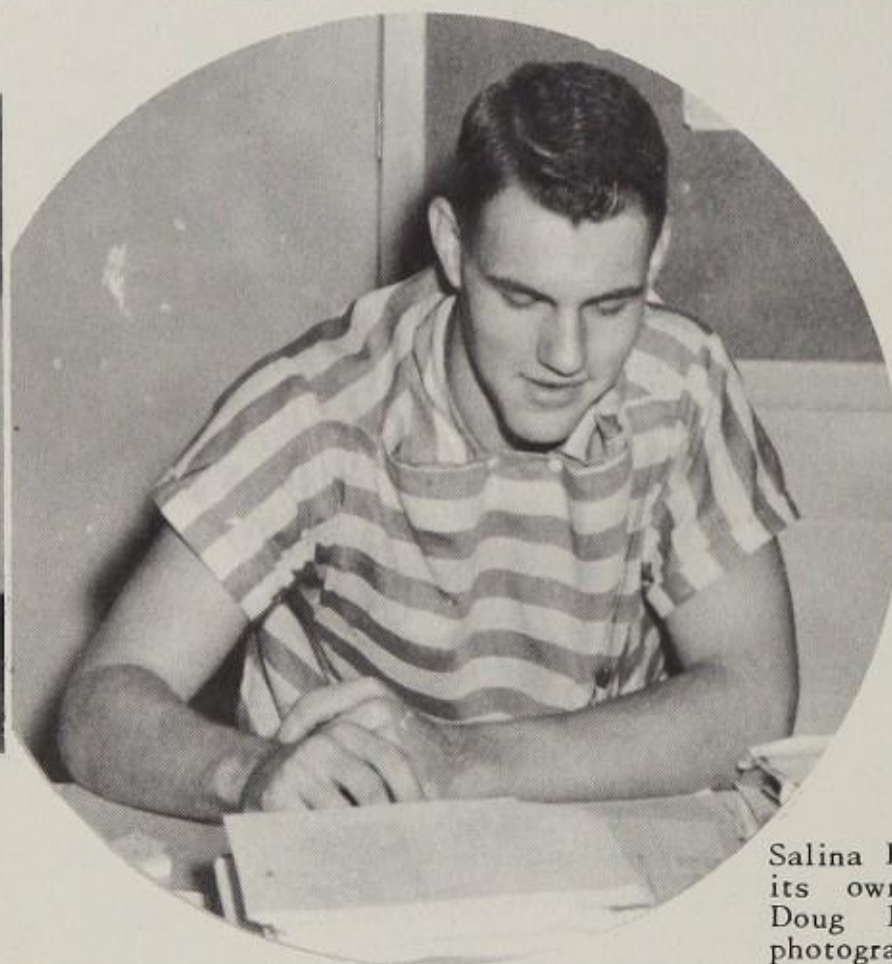

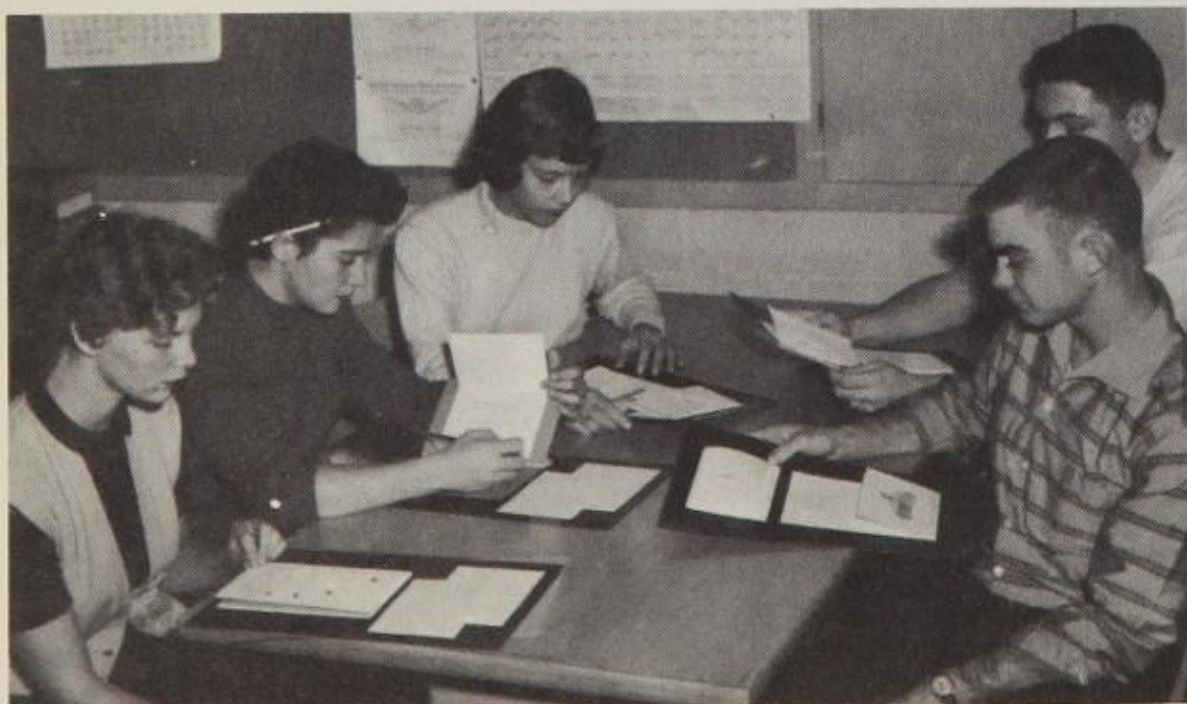

Drawing up bills and going through the procedures of Congress are one of the requirements in the government class. Gale Urban, chairman, presents a bill to the joint session. A clerk and secretary, Mike Zimmer-schied and Phil Rinard, assist him.

Salina High wasn't missed when Scottish kilts came into style. Elsie Gillispie models the typical style the girls wear.

Salina High was fortunate to have its own photographer this year. Doug Kilgore studies forms of photography in the visual aid room. He took pictures for the school paper and some for the yearbook.

In the fall a committee is chosen to select the graduation announcements for the seniors. The announcements arrive in the spring just in time for the seniors to send them to relatives and friends. Mary Lee Taylor, Betty Harr, Mary Rita Warren, Bill Welsh, and Dan Wiggans look at samples of announcements.

Sandy Fleming tries to keep Marlene Pinkham standing up on her skates. Betty Butcher finds all this very amusing. Ice skating is a great activity during the winter for students.

John Kirtland, Mary Gay Dillingham, and Bill Welsh were fortunate in being chosen to tour Europe under the American Field Service plan last summer. John and Bill lived with families in Germany, and Mary Gay lived in Sweden.

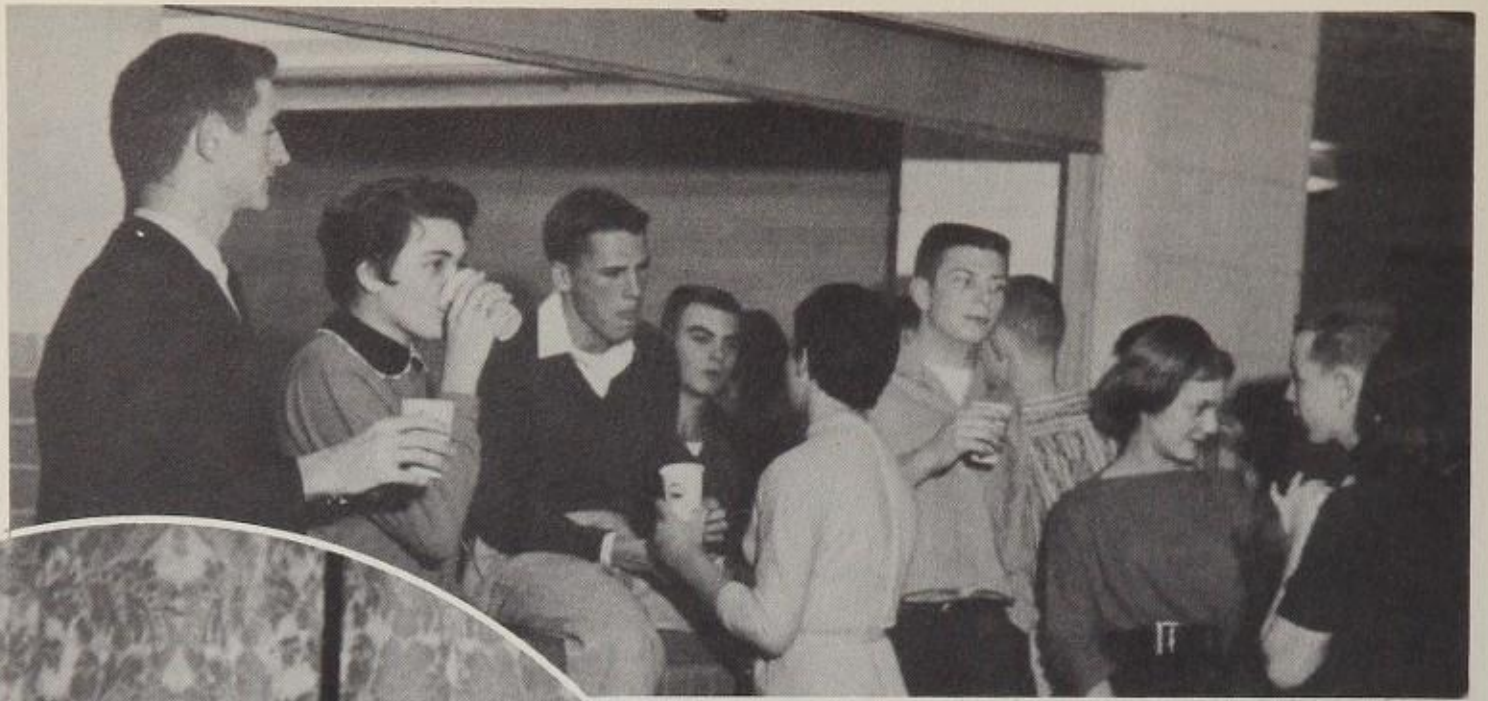

Students would be sunk if it weren't for the concourse as a place of conversing and drinking that daily coke. Throngs of students gather there before school, during the lunch hour, and after school. Sheila Sutton and Jeanette Turner are participants.

These creatures aren't actually the school's cheerleaders. They only performed once, and that was for a pep assembly. With colorful outfits and a little too much make-up, Harry Becker, Roger Van Cleef, Don Wise, Jerry Davis, and Bob Smith led the school in yells to create school spirit.

Salina High's Lettermen Club sponsored an all-school dance. The Symphonettes furnished music for dancing. The Madrigal presented several numbers with the Symphonettes accompanying them. At intermission the couples flocked to the refreshments stand.

Charlie Nelson, former grad of Salina High and now a show business headliner, does a routine number for some of his femme admirers. Enjoying his beautiful voice are Martha Teas, Ardyn Allison, Larree Todd, and Janie Cooke. Charlie appeared on one school assembly.

"Off duty" for a moment at their monitor posts are Annie Anschutz and Kay Vickroy. The magazine article seems to get these girls in the mood for dreaming of their steadies.

On play productions efficient backstage crews are needed. Sometimes the work becomes very tiring. Then, positions in which Dee Dee Fencil and Margi Ballou find themselves can be seen.

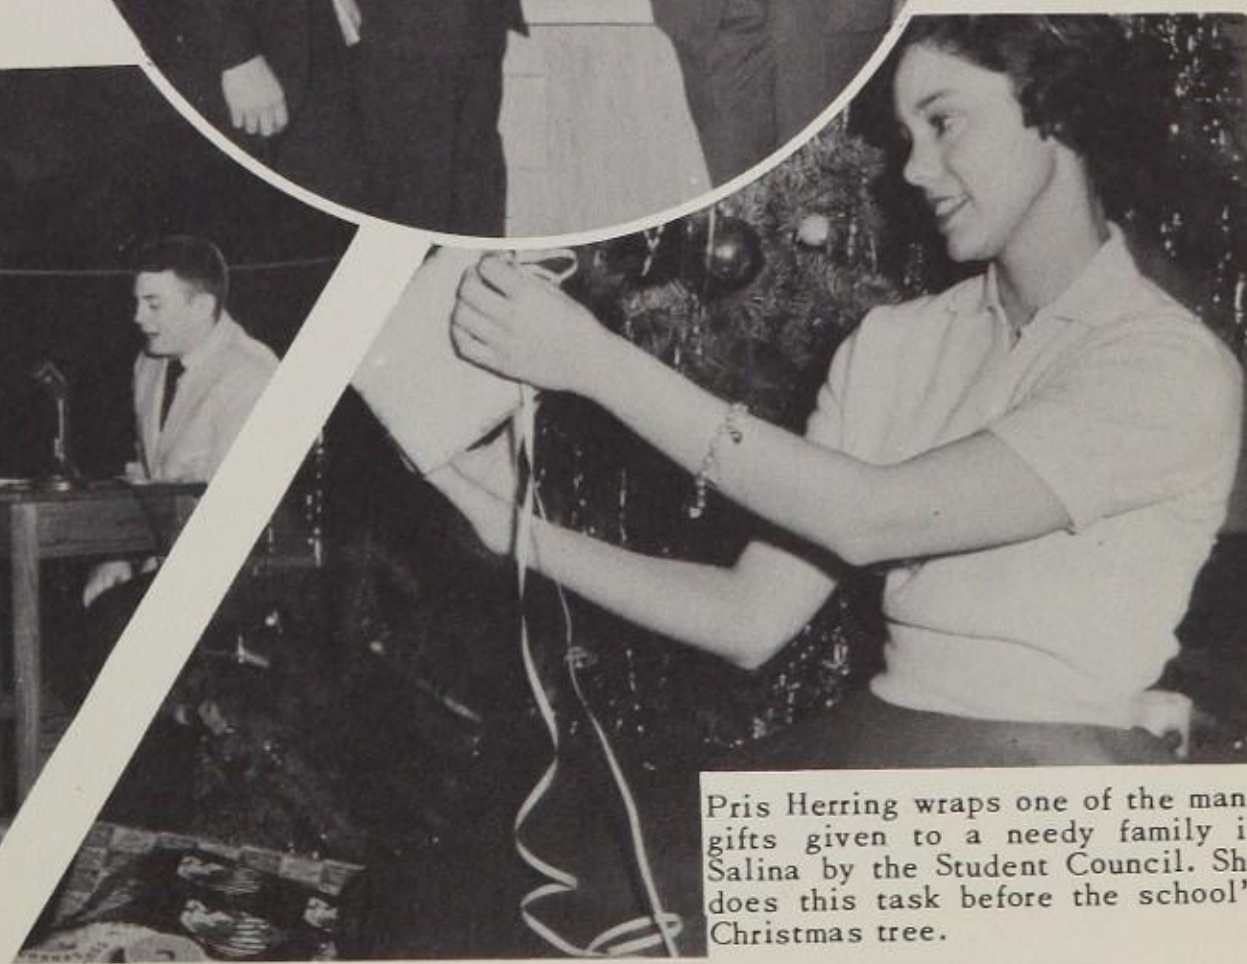

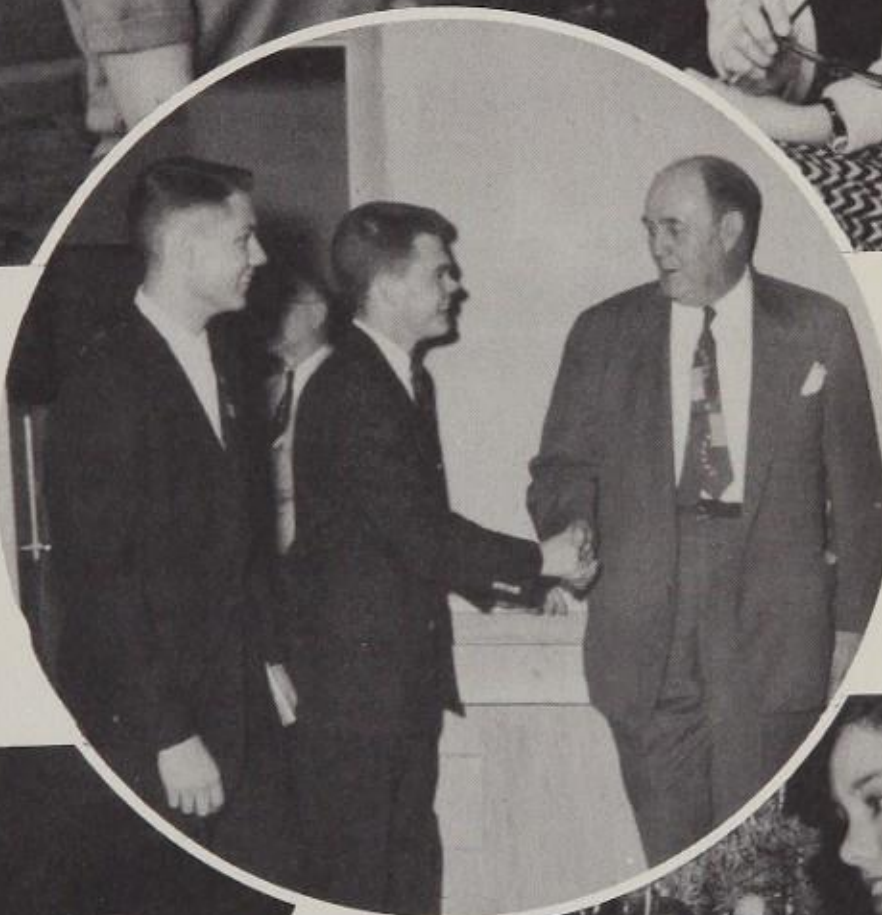

Glancing at Ginny Horn, one might think she came from the jungle, but actually, Ginny is just modeling a majorette hat. She's also trying her hand at twirling with two batons.

During the election campaign, Senator William Knowland made a speech in Salina. Reporters, Bill Welsh and John Kirtland, seek an interview of him.

"Name That Tune" was played at the pep assembly before the Salina-Abilene game. Louis Nieman, Abilene Cowboy, displays his sorrow at losing. Charlene Hite, Mustang, names the proper tunes and wins a lasso from Ann Bell, Emcee was Don Bradley.

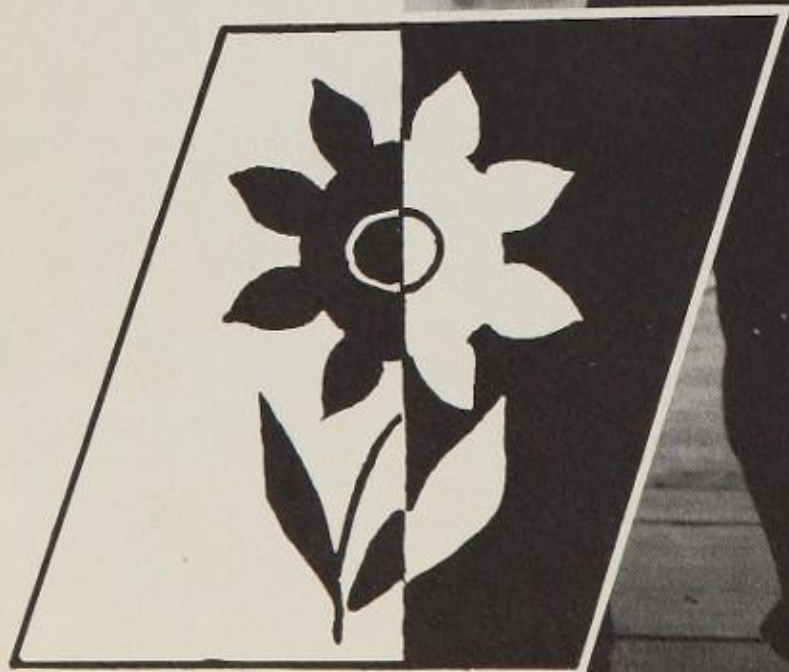

Senior girls chose Mary Gay Dillingham as the DAR Good Citizen of the Year. The Daughters of the American Revolution entered Mary Gay in the state contest. Donna Antrim was tops in the Betty Crocker contest at Salina High. She was then entered in the district contest.

Pris Herring wraps one of the many gifts given to a needy family in Salina by the Student Council. She does this task before the school's Christmas tree.

MARCH

The big event in March around Salina High was the musical "Oklahoma." It was a thrill for everyone who worked on this production. Sande Shilling, lead dancer, departs from the wings for a grand entrance on the stage.

Betty Butcher is not admiring herself in the mirror but applying make-up to her face. Typical scenes backstage were members of the cast sauntering about with hair in pincurls and faces coated with types of theatrical make-up.

Members of the orchestra "warm up" in the practice room before playing the beautiful music from "Oklahoma!" for a full house each night. Linda Stark, Pat Means, Barbara Grantham, Kay Wright, and Gale Urban do a little "jiving."

Applying make-up to the cast members was evidently not all work for the crew. Cast members and the make-up crew seem to have a riotous time with the eye shadow, rouge, and powder.

"OKLAHOMA!", SALINA

"Oklahoma!" could not have been the success it turned out to be if the many crews had not put long hours of labor into the production. House Manager was Bob Gross, Business Manager was Don Wise, and Sharon Price was Secretary-Treasurer. Donna Dyck and Gail Greever had charge of programs. Historian was Nan Waller, Chorus Masters were Marilee Long and Lynn Smith, while Helen Zerbe was assistant to the orchestra director.

Betty Harr was chairman of ticket sales. Members of her crew were Ruth Elliott, Lynn Smith, Vivian Ripple, and Larree Todd. Gary McCausland, Mike Zimmer-schied, Carol Sue Johnson, Janie Meier, Jeanette Turner, and Sheila Sutton were on the ticket reservations crew. Nancy Simmons had charge of complimentary tickets. Janet Turner was chairman of publicity, and her crew members were Kay Trowbridge, Marva Johnson, Edith McDanel.

Checking a few minute details of the stage setting are Larry Borden, Kent Worley, Stan Abbott, Ben Langel, and Ronnie Brown. The stage crew had to fulfill many tasks for this production such as the building of a house and a shack.

HIGH SUCCESS

The Broadway musical hit, "Oklahoma," was presented on Friday and Saturday evenings, March 15 and 16, in the Salina High auditorium. A matinee performance was given on Wednesday, March 13, for the junior high with the understudies carrying the roles.

"Oklahoma!," a musical, whose setting is appropriately enough Oklahoma, takes place in a farming community near Claremore while our neighbor to the south was still a territory. There was a-fightin' and a-feudin' between the cowboys and the farmers which gave rise to several tussles between the two factions.

Lowell Danielson, portraying cowboy Curley McCain, opens the show with the now-famous "Oh, What a Beautiful Mornin'." He has come to see Laurey Williams, a farm girl, played by Elizabeth Riedell, to ask her to go to the box social with him in his hired "Surrey with the Fringe On Top." Laurey, piqued at his teasings, accepts the offer of Jud, the sullen hired man, played by Evan Jones, instead. Curley makes a date with Laurey's Aunt Eller (Jeanie Van Gundy). Laurey's rashness later leads to complications, but she finds that she is not the only rash one. Becky Myers, playing Ado Annie, who "Cain't Say No," is plagued with having to choose between Will Parker (Loren Conrad), a cowboy with no cash but lots of knowledge of what's going on in Kansas City, and Ali Hakim (Louis Neimann), a peddler with a great affection for the marriage system in Persia.

Other cast members were John Mitchell, Mike Zimmerschied, Bob Taylor, Betty Harr, and Don Wise.

The dancing chorus demonstrates "Many A New Day." Bright skirts and ruffy petticoats added much to the dances.

Jud (Evan Jones) and Curly (Lowell Danielson) get into a lively conversation over Laurey while Ali Hakim (Louis Neimann) the peddler, tries to get a word in about his wares.

The cast and chorus sing "Oklahoma!" as the grand final. The show played to a full house both nights and the cast gave a superb performance. All the laughter and tears of this musical will never be forgotten by the people who made this a great success.

AIRES MAKE MANY APPEARANCES

The orchestra presents a more serious type of music with a touch of the lighter types. This group presents a concert in the spring and competes in the district music festival. They took a trip to see the Kansas City Philharmonic which proved a worthwhile adventure.

Presenting folk dances, dinner music, and semi-classics for the public is a string ensemble called the Gypsies. The ensemble consists of seven members. The Gypsies wear colorful costumes in the form of bright skirts, white blouses, gay boleros, and dangling, loud jewelry. These costumes set the mood for music by the Gypsies.

Banding together, the Symphonettes and Madrigal form the Symphonaires. The Symphonettes are a school dance band, and the Madrigal, a mixed vocal group, sing semi-classic, folk songs, rounds, and popular music. The Symphonaires took their annual tour of Central Kansas.

These groups are under the direction of Mr. Olin Parker from the instrumental department.

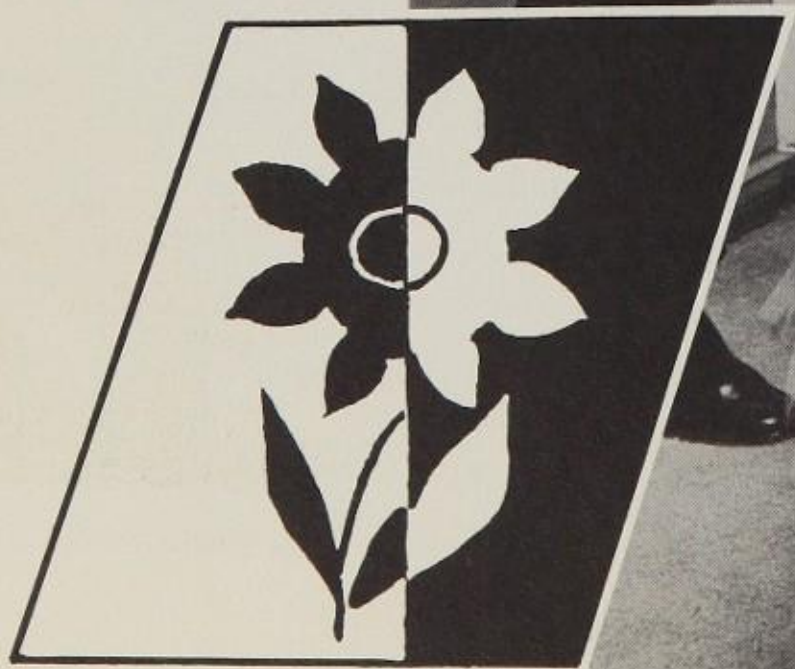

Mr. Paul Ryberg is head of the vocal department, and Mr. Olin Parker is head of the instrumental department. Mr. Ryberg's vocal groups perform for various organizations and clubs throughout the city. The A Capella Choir and Madrigal took singing tours.

Mr. Parker directs the marching band, concert band, orchestra, Gypsies, and the Symphonettes. The Gypsies play for dinners and the Symphonettes play for dances.

FACULTY SELECTS HONOR STUDENTS

Each year high schools over the nation elect fifteen per cent of the graduating class to National Honor Society. This organization has existed since 1900.

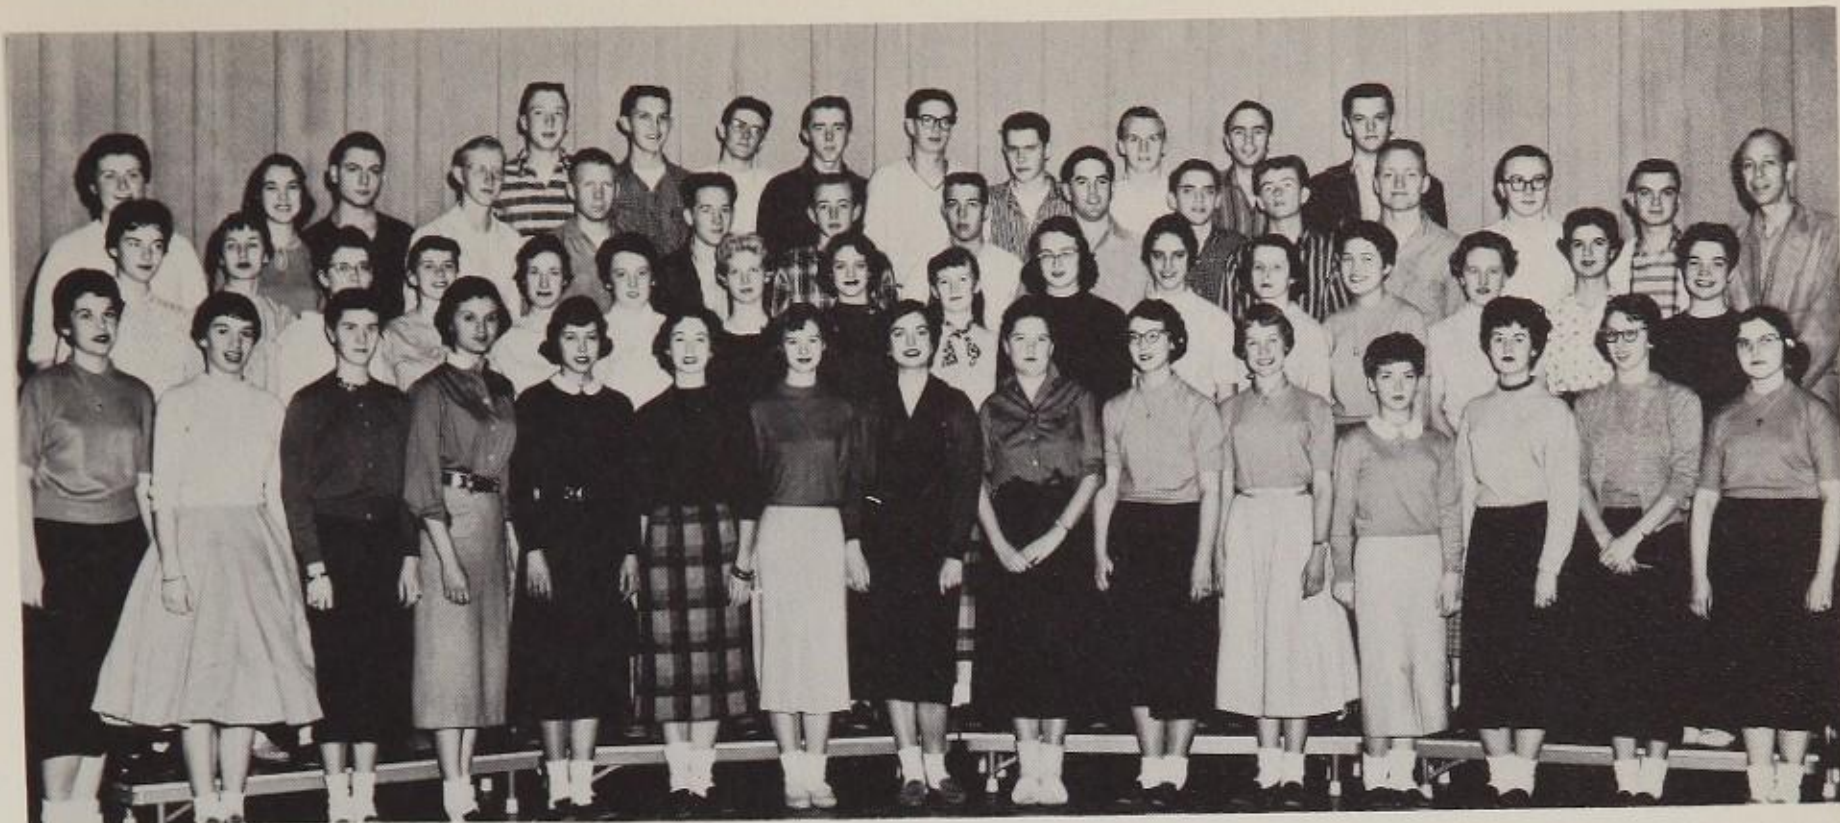

The top one-third of the class is eligible for election. These students are rated by teachers according to leadership, character, and service to the school. These ratings are compiled and are available at the time the faculty votes for National Honor Society members.

Salina High's faculty voted by secret ballot for 44 seniors. A majority vote was needed for election. These members of this society were presented on an assembly, after being informed of their election.

The group was initiated on March 28 in the school gym, an event to which the parents of members were invited.

DRAMATICS CLUB SHOOTS MOVIE

The Dramatics Club was more than just active this year. The 60 members of the club were composed of 40 seniors and 20 juniors. There were returning members from last year, the other seniors were elected after their class play, and juniors were chosen after the junior play. All members must be active in dramatic work.

The constitution was revised by the members. A project of making a movie was embarked upon. Several weeks were spent filming this movie. All the Dramatics Club members took part in the filming. Mr. Bill Huggins, photographer for the Salina Journal, did the shooting of the movie. Mr. John Morris, announcer for radio station KSAL, had charge of the sound production. Students narrated the film. Mr. Jack Kelly, sponsor, took the film to the Central States Speech Association meeting at Minneapolis, Minnesota, on April 4 and 5. He also took a one-act play cast from the Dramatics Club to perform at this meeting. The Dramatics Club play was presented in May. New officers were elected in the spring.

These Dramatics Club members were eligible to become Thespians. Thespian points were earned through acting and backstage production during the year. Salina High School dramatists are members of Thespian Troop 639.

CINDERMEN START SEASON

To start out the track season this year, forty-one boys checked out their equipment from Mr. Mike Davis, head coach, and assistant coaches, Max Dye and Paul Zerger. The practice begin immediately after basketball season, leaving the team very little time to prepare for the first meet.

The team had the help of six returning lettermen. Lloyd Jackson and Steve Klint were back as two of the state's dashmen. Lloyd was on the 880 team that broke the K.U. record at the 1955 K.U. Relays. Dan Wiggans was back to lend depth to the pole vault, Jim Stauffer and Phil Rinard, returning lettermen in the distance running, are both experienced distance men. Jack Moss aided last years team in the weight events.

All in all the track squad came through with plenty of ability and high hopes for a successful season under their new coach Mike Davis. Coach Davis came from Concordia High School where last year his squad was undefeated. Max Dye directed the weight events and added to the coaching staff his able assistance.
